Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. In a 13 inch by 9 inch baking pan, melt margarine on the stove top. When melted, pour melted butter in your baking pan. Sprinkle graham cracker crumbs over melted butter. Top with remaining ingredients in layers. Press down firmly. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool. Chill thoroughly and cut into bars. Store loosely covered at room temperature.

If you are baking a cake in a glass pan, you should lower your oven temperature by about 25 degrees. It will save the bottom of the cake from getting scorched.
