Beat the egg whites and salt until soft peaks form then beat in 1 tablespoon of sugar at a time, beating steadily until stiff. Beat the egg yolks until thick then mix in the lemon juice, vanilla and rind. Fold about 1 cup of the egg whites into the yolks until no white remains. Pile the remaining egg whites on the yolk mixture then sift flour over them. Fold together carefully. Turn into the pan and smooth top with a rubber scraper. Pick up pan carefully and hit bottom on a hard surface. Bake 40 minutes or until top springs back when pressed with the finger and is browned. Cool on a cake rack.

Note: For layers, bake in two 9-inch layer cake pans for 25 minutes or until done.

For better texture, try substituting buttermilk for regular milk in your cake recipe. For each cup of buttermilk used, add 1/2 teaspoon of baking soda to the dry ingredients.
